Governor Wes Moore

Maryland State Governor

Wes Moore is the 63rd Governor of the state of Maryland. He is Maryland's first Black Governor in the state's 246-year history, and is just the third African American elected Governor in the history of the United States.

Born in Takoma Park, Maryland, on October 15, 1978, to Joy and Westley Moore, Moore's life took a tragic turn when his father died of a rare, but treatable virus when he was just three years old. After his father's death, his family moved to the Bronx to live with Moore's grandparents before returning to Maryland at age 14.

Moore is a proud graduate of Valley Forge Military Academy and College, where he received an Associates degree in 1998, and was commissioned as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army. Afterward, he went on to earn his Bachelor's in international relations and economics at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, where he graduated Phi Beta Kappa.

While at Johns Hopkins, Moore interned in the office of former Baltimore Mayor Kurt Schmoke. Moore was the first Black Rhodes Scholar in the history of Johns Hopkins University. As A Rhodes Scholar, he earned a Master's in international relations from Wolfson College at Oxford.

In 2005, Moore deployed to Afghanistan as a captain with the 82nd Airborne Division, leading soldiers in combat. Immediately upon returning home, Moore served as a White House Fellow, advising on issues of national security and international relations.

In 2010, Moore wrote "The Other Wes Moore," a story about the fragile nature of opportunity in America, which became a perennial New York Times bestseller. He went on to write other best-selling books that reflect on issues of race, equity, and opportunity, including his latest book "Five Days," which tells the story of Baltimore in the days that followed the death of Freddie Gray in 2015.

Moore built and launched a Baltimore-based business called BridgeEdU, which reinvented freshman year of college for underserved students to increase their likelihood of long-term success. BridgeEdu was acquired by the Brooklyn-based student financial success platform, Edquity, in 2018.

It was Moore's commitment to taking on our toughest challenges that brought him to the Robin Hood Foundation, where he served for four years as CEO. During his tenure, the Robin Hood Foundation distributed over $600 million toward lifting families out of poverty, including here in Maryland.

While the Robin Hood Foundation is headquartered in New York City, Wes and his family never moved from their home in Baltimore.

Moore has also worked in finance with Deutsche Bank in London and with Citigroup in New York.

Moore and his wife Dawn Flythe Moore have two children – Mia, 12; and James, 10.

Calvin S. Hawkins, II

Isaac “Ike” Gourdine Memorial Award Recipient

Calvin S. Hawkins, II was reelected in the November 2022 General Election to serve a second four-year term of office as an At-Large Member of the Prince George’s County Council, in November, 2022. Council Member At-Large Hawkins has devoted 30+ years of civic and philanthropic work in local government, learning the importance of public service from some of the most powerful and well-renown leaders in the area, including District of Columbia Mayor for Life Marion Barry, District of Columbia Council Member Kevin Chavous, former Prince George’s County Executives Wayne Curry, Jack Johnson, Rushern Baker, and Prince George’s County Executive Angela Alsobrooks.

He was a Senior Advisor to Prince George’s County Executive Rushern Baker from 2013-2017. Currently, Council Member At-Large Hawkins is Chair of the General Assembly Committee, and Vice-Chair of the Health, Human Services, and Public Safety (HHSPS) Committee.

Council Member At-Large Hawkins served as Council Chair in 2021 and 2022, passing legislative measures that directly responded to the COVID-19 pandemic. During this time, he spearheaded funding for emergency rental assistance, grants for small businesses, and finding for food disparities in the low-income areas of Prince George’s County.

He also sponsored the Re-Entry Advisory Board, tasked with realigning the County’s reentry process by defining and identifying existing and implementable services offered within Prince George’s County addressing, but were not limited to employment, housing, mental health, and faith-based initiatives. In partnership with County agencies, non-profits, law enforcement and faith-based organizations, the Re-Entry Advisory Board has reiterated the impactful work of providing sustainable resources for returning citizens.

Council Member At-Large Hawkins is a member of Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., and has a loving family consisting of his loving wife, Angie, daughter, Tori, and three grandchildren.

Kim Rhim

Isaac “Ike” Gourdine Memorial Award Recipient

Kim Rhim is the founder and executive director of The Training Source, Inc., a 30-year-old HUD Best Practice, Standards for Excellence® accredited, Candid® Platinum rated, Spur Local® Trusted & Critical Nonprofit featured, and national Award of Excellence recipient nonprofit organization. The Training Source provides outstanding adult employment training, job placement and follow-up services; youth leadership and employability training; and community and social services for individuals and families in-need in the Washington region. The organization also provides staffing assistance, technical assistance and consulting, and management and employee development training for public and private sector organizations.

As a result of impactful programs and services, Kim and The Training Source have received recognition and awards from many sources. In 2019, she was the first nonprofit leader to be recognized with a Nonprofit Pride Award by Prince George’s County Executive Angela Alsobrooks at the county’s Women’s History Month Celebration and received the first Prince George’s County Nonprofit Leader of the Year award, based on popular vote, at the Greater Washington Community Foundation’s Civic Leadership Awards event. In 2020, she was presented with the William Donald Schaefer Helping People Award for Prince George’s County by Maryland Comptroller Peter Franchot. In 2023, she was recognized by the Prince George’s Chamber of Commerce as a woman fostering change and collaboration during its Women’s History Month Breakfast, and by the J. Franklyn Bourne Bar Association for outstanding community service. The Training Source is featured in Spur Local’s 2023 Catalog for Giving as a Trusted & Critical Nonprofit. This year, we were voted a True Inspiration by the Chick-fil-A Foundation resulting in a generous grant and leadership development training.

Kim is actively involved in the human services sector and has served on the Boards of Directors of Nonprofit Prince George’s County and Maryland Association of Nonprofit Organizations, and on many local and regional roundtables and task forces. An advocate for progress, she facilitates groups and workshops at conferences and also teaches noncredit classes at several area community colleges.

Prior to creating The Training Source, Kim enjoyed a ten-year career serving in several professional and managerial positions at IBM Corporation. She holds a BBA, magna cum laude, from Howard University and an MBA in finance, corporate relations and management from Columbia University. She is also a certified Job Developer, Resume Writer and Global Career Development Facilitator. She resides in Prince George’s County, Maryland with her husband, Michael, and they have two adult children.

Eugene Green

Founder & First President, CCBCM

Eugene Green was the founder and first president of the Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men. Born in Wilmington, NC, he graduated from Williston High School and was the recipient of a football scholarship to Fayetteville State University where he excelled as a starter for the Fayetteville Broncos. After graduating from Fayetteville State University, Eugene relocated to the Washington DC metropolitan area and began a career as an educator in the Washington, DC public school system.

Desiring to continue his education, he enrolled at Howard University and received a Master's degree in Educational Administration and Supervision. Starting out as a classroom teacher, Eugene was promoted to the position of Acting Assistant Principal and later to the position of Assistant Principal at Friendship Educational School. While working as an educator, Eugene had a strong commitment to using his gifts and talents outside the classroom setting. As such, he established the Savoy Athletic Club for children who participated in Inter-school athletics; was co-founder of the Anacostia Elementary school Athletic Club; and served as Building Representative for the Region “A” Elementary School Athletic Club. This is just a small sampling of a number of community and school activities Eugene committed his talents. For his work in the DC School system, he was chosen as the 1977-1978 "Teacher of The Year" for Kigor Savoy Elementary School.

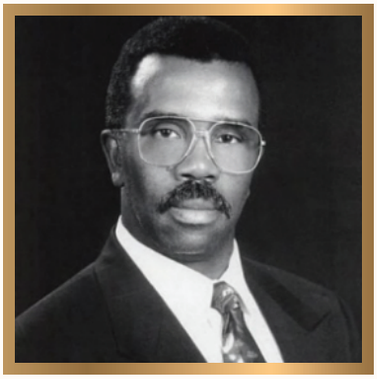
Eugene became a member of Ebenezer A. M. E. Church in Fort Washington, MD. His talent for leadership was recognized; and in short order, he became chairman of Trustees at the church and later president of the Men's Fellowship. His vision to see men take strong and active roles in the church and community was the impetus that challenged him to start a community-based Christian organization that would be ecumenical and unite the efforts of men from various churches in Prince George's County. With strong support from Pastor Grainger Browning and several brothers from Ebenezer A.M.E., the Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men was launched in 1987. Under Eugene's leadership, the organization grew quickly and in a short period of time, had members from several churches throughout the county.

We thank God for Eugene's vision and his passion to get black men engaged in servicing our community with their God given gifts and talents.

CCBCM HISTORY

Isaac “Ike” Gourdine

Co-Founder, CCBCM



Isaac J. Gourdine was the fourth of 12 children born to Wesley and Martha Gallashaw Gourdine on December 6, 1946, in Charleston, South Carolina. He was suddenly called to eternal rest on February 25, 2002. During the formative years, Isaac attended the public schools of South Carolina. He graduated from Gresham Meggett High School in 1964 and in February 1966, joined the Armed Services where he served for two years including service in Vietnam. Isaac received his undergraduate and law degrees from Howard University in 1974 and 1977, respectively. On June 2, 1969, Isaac married Mary Simmons, and from this union, two children were born: Monica and Lamar. The family moved to Prince George's County, Maryland in 1970. He became active in the school system in 1975 when Monica entered first grade at Barnaby Manor. He worked diligently for children in the public school system until his untimely death. Isaac was instrumental in starting the Cub Scouts at Tayac Elementary School, the Boy Scouts at Ebenezer A.M.E. Church, and the PTSA at Friendly High School (he served as President of the PTSA at Friendly High School and Lord Baltimore Middle School).

Isaac accepted Christ at an early age and as a young man, was a member of Payne RMUE Church in Charleston, South Carolina. In 1984, Isaac and his family joined Ebenezer A.M.E. Church in Fort Washington, Maryland and have been faithful in their stewardship. Isaac was a committed and involved husband and parent who adored his wife and children, making sure that they were central to everything he did.

"Ike" as he was affectionately known, began his public service as an elected official in 1994 as a Prince George's County Council member from the 8th Councilmanic District. During this time, he served on the Health, Education and Human Resources Committee. Ike was deeply committed to improving the educational opportunities for all children and youth in the County. In fact, his last o cial duty was a speech given at a local public school. Ike was Co-founder of the Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men of Prince George's County, Maryland, was a member of the NAACP, the National Bar Association, the J. Franklyn Bourne Bar Association, and the Washington Bar Association. He was also a member of the E. Jerry Williams Lodge #141.

Ike will be remembered by his family and friends for his commitment to high ideals and excellence in every endeavor. His keen wit and great sense of humor brought levity to even the most delicate situation. He loved debating issues, defending the disenfranchised, championing causes for the children of Prince George's County, cooking crabs and red beans and rice for family and friends, and going home to Charleston, SC to visit and bask in the city's beauty and charm.

CCBCM HISTORY

James F. Murphy, Sr.

CCBCM President - 2020 to Present

It is my pleasure and honor as the CCBCM President to congratulate the 2024 scholarship recipients, their families and our Honored guests. This year's theme, "Meeting the Expectations" is illustrative of the extraordinary efforts, challenges and obstacles shared by our Recipients as they navigate and overcome social, economic and political obstacles. There is a shared belief and commitment which highlights an awareness of Faith. A Faith and Belief not only to themselves, their families, com munity but to a higher calling. A Faith and Duty to God from whom all Blessings flow. There was consensus that their Faith and commitments would guide, keep and sustain them despite all.

The CCBCM was founded 37 years ago by a group of men similarly determined to overcome adversity. Through prayer, community service, and commitment, the CCBCM has dedicated itself to operate on a non-profit basis with an all-volunteer membership to provide resources in support of educational opportunities, social assistance and community involvement to help enhance the quality of life for the people in our communities. Since 1987, the CCBCM has worked diligently to make a difference, awarding $562,000 in scholarships to 625 students; helping to restore homes and hope each year by participating in Prince George's County's Christmas in April project; and distributing thousands of groceries through the Self Help and Resource Exchange (SHARES) program.

Since 2002, the CCBCM has provided $167,293 in cash donations, food, and toys to the community to include those persons impacted by the COVID-19 crisis. The CCBCM believes we have been blessed to BE a blessing, and we will continue to give God all the glory for our achievements over the past three decades.

After receiving this scholarship, each of our honorees will become a part of the CCBCM's rich legacy of faith and philanthropy. The new school year may present many challenges for our 2024 scholars, but the CCBCM will stand with them, support them, and most importantly, pray for them during their journey.

Congratulations to each of our recipients, and many thanks to our donors, volunteers, sponsors, members, and the community for their prayers and support. We wish you all continued health and many blessings.

The Dr. Oliver “Jerry” Harmon

Memorial Scholarship Award

In honor of Dr. Oliver “Jerry” Harmon (February 6, 1940 - January 6, 2014). The Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men established his award to assist young men and women in pursuit of academic excellence in institutions of higher learning and to encourage their participation in community base activities with the desired goal of improving the conditions of that community.

The award is to be used for tuition and/or college expenses. Oliver“Jerry” Harmon was raised on a rural farm in Ellendale, Delaware by his maternal grandmother after losing his mother at the tender age of 7. His elementary school days were spent in a segregated one room school house for colored students in the 1940s. Despite having limited resources and an absent father, he excelled academically and graduated valedictorian from Jason High School. After graduating high school, Jerry accepted a full academic scholarship to Delaware State College (now University) and majored in Biology. He was the very first in his family to attend college and realized quickly the significance of an education. After finishing at Delaware State, he accepted additional scholarships to attend Howard University’s School of Dentistry. It was his lifelong dream to become a dentist. In 1967, he received his DDS – Doctor of Dental Surgery. He was the very first student from Delaware State University to complete a health professional program and he was their first student to become a licensed dentist and the very first student to hold the title of “Dr”.

He started his first 4 years as a dentist in the United States Air Force, serving as a Captain at both Scott Air Force Base in Illinois and Dover Air Force Base in Delaware. He left the military and opened the doors of his private practice at Hampton Mall, in Capital Heights, Maryland in 1970. Three years later, he joined his Howard University classmates and opened the doors of Landover Dental Associates in Landover, Maryland. During his nearly 50 years of dentistry, he happily and skillfully mentored dozens of rising dentists, provided care for those in need and participated in the Donated Dental Services program through the State of Maryland. He taught as an Assistant Professor at Howard University’s School of Dentistry and served on the medical staff at Prince George’s Hospital Center.

He was extremely grateful for the opportunities afforded to him by the academic scholarships that shaped his life, and preached to all that would listen – that a college education was the way to go. He was involved in a large number of community service and church activities. However, his greatest LOVE was working with the Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men and raising money for deserving students to attend college, so they too, could be afforded the same opportunities and access to an education as he had. He was a firm believer and a true example that an education is the key needed to reach personal dreams.

CCBCM AWARD

Paul D. Merritt

Memorial Scholarship Award

Paul Merritt joined the Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men in 1996. He served for many years as a member of the SHARE Ministry, Outreach Ministry and Scholarship Committee. He was elected as president of the organization in 2002 and served in the capacity until he relocated to Charlotte, North Carolina in 2006.

Paul was the beating heart of our organization during his tenure as president. He devoted himself to keeping the organization moving forward. It was during his term as president that we became part of the SHARES organization and Combined Federal Campaign (CFC). We also substantially increased the awards given in scholarship payments. His goal was to increase the amount given each year and we were able to accomplish this during his term.

Paul was an integral part of establishing our Bereavement Ministry. He took it upon himself to reach out to those members who were ill or had family members who were ill or deceased. He'd often host our organizational meetings and prepare a meal file for royalty.

Paul will long be remembered for his generosity and hospitality. His work goes on in the effort this organization commits to the various ministers he helped established.

CCBCM AWARD

Hubert “Petey” Green

Memorial Scholarship Award

Coalition’s Business/Political Science Scholarship Award in Honor of Hurbert “Petey” Green (August 23, 1944 - March 15, 2021)

The Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men are proud to present the Hubert “Petey” Green Business/Political Scholarship Award to a graduating senior who demonstrates outstanding dedication to business and community service in Prince George’s County.

Hubert “Petey” Green was born in Cameron, Texas where he was educated in the Milam County Public Schools. Career and educational opportunities were limited in the quaint and small rural town named for Texas Revolutionary figure Captain Cameron.

“Petey” chose the United States Air Force as a means to create an adventurous, educational, and fulfilling career. Being a Personnel Specialist was perfect for Petey as he was truly a “people person”. He executed his influence and service around the world, from France, Thailand, North Carolina, District of Columbia to Maryland (Andrews AFB), for twenty years and a day before retiring from the Air Force. While stationed at Seymour Johnson AFB in Goldsboro NC, Petey met the love of his life, Mary Ann, to whom he was married and loved for fifty-four years.

Petey was a faithful member of Ebenezer AME Church for over thirty-five years. He was a founding member of the Concerned Coalition of Black Christian Men (CCBCM) and served on the Multi-Media, Married Couples, Community Relations Ministries and the Count Team.

In his second career, Petey spent his time and efforts focused on Business and Politics. He clearly recognized the impact Business, Opportunity, Representation, and Policy has on our quality of life.

His efforts included Boards Memberships: The Alliance of Southern Prince George’s County, National Black Chamber of Commerce, Financial Services Corporation, Prince George’s Board of Trade, Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men, Prince George’s Black Chamber of Commerce (Co-Founder, Chair of the Board of Directors & President); Community and Business Relations (President), and B&W Solutions Inc. (Vice President of Community Affairs).

Petey also played a signification role in several political campaigns to include Congressman Albert Wynn, Lt. Governor Michael Steele, Councilman Isaac Gourdine, Councilman Tony Knotts, Senator Gloria Lawlah, and Delegate Jay Walker. Petey also had significant impact on major projects such as the National Harbor and development around Branch Avenue Metro Station.

Petey’s wife Mary Ann, family, friends, community and business associates miss him dearly and hope this scholarship will motivate and inspire future leaders within our community.

To The Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men:

On behalf of the Moore-Miller Administration and the people of Maryland, I want to extend my warmest congratulations on your 37th anniversary.

The Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men has made a positive impact on Prince George's County, awarding approximately $562,000 in scholarships, providing social assistance, and promoting community involvement to Marylanders in need since 1987.

Your hard work makes our communities stronger and helps create a brighter future—together, we are building a Maryland that leads. My administration and our entire state are deeply grateful for your many contributions.

I am honored to celebrate with you today and wish you more success in the future.

Sincerely,

Fort Washington, MD 20744

Dear Mr. Murphy,

It is with great pleasure that I extend my congratulations to The Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men (CCBCM) of Prince George's County on your Annual Scholarship and Fundraising Program. This is such an exciting time for your members as you recognize and celebrate our future leaders.

I applaud the CCBCM on your community outreach efforts and awarding thousands of dollars in scholarships to many deserving students over the years as well as providing support in food, toys, and donations to families in need of assistance. I appreciate the efforts of the CCBCM for your continued support of Prince George's County families.

Special congratulations to all scholarship awardees! As our next generation of scholars and leaders, you have made us all very proud. Thanks again to the CCBCM for helping these young people as they advance to higher education. Again, congratulations to all!

Sincerely,

Organization Overview

The Coalition of Concerned Black Christian Men (CCBCM) of Prince George's county Maryland is based in Fort Washington, MD and is a local 501(c) (3) non-profit organization that started back in 1987. The organization was co-founded in 1987 by the late Eugene Green and the late Isaac "Ike" Gourdine (Prince George's County councilman of the 8th district) that was tragically killed in a car accident in 2002. The mission of the organization is to operate on a non-profit basis with an all-volunteer membership that provides resources in support of educational opportunities, social assistance and community involvement to help enhance the quality of life for the people in our communities. The current president and vice president of the organization are James Murphy and William Murphy.

The CCBCM is concerned about improving the quality of life in the community. We are Christian men committed to project a positive image by making a difference in the community through positive actions. We are dedicated to be a proactive faith-based organization that will be visible in the community by producing results for our faith-based activities.

We are concerned about meeting the needs of the community. We will maintain a high profile by sponsoring major programs to meet the growing needs of the community by providing financial and human resources. The CCBCM is concerned about helping those who may need assistance in feeding their families. Since 2002 we have provided $167,293 dollars in food, monetary donations to families and food pantries in need of assistance to include persons that were impacted by COVID-19 through our community outreach programs. We have partnered with other faith-based organizations to give gifts of food and monetary donations to families in the community through programs, such as, our Thanksgiving Outreach, Christmas Outreach, COVID-19 Outreach and the Self Help and Resource Exchange (SHARE) program where we delivery food on a monthly basis to families and food panties in need of additional assistance.

The CCBCM Oliver "Jerry" Harmon Scholarship program awards individual scholarships to deserving young women and men pursuing their collegiate dreams and aspirations. Our scholarship program is for students living in Prince's Georges County. We focus on high school seniors but also provide scholarships to returning college students as long as they live in Prince George's county. Our applications are provided to all the high schools in Prince George's county and posted on our website at www.ccbcm.org and shared via Social Media. Since 1993 we have awarded $562,000 dollars in scholarships to (625) students.

Combined Federal Campaign (CFC)

The mission of the CFC is to support and to promote philanthropy through a voluntary program that is employee-focused, cost-efficient and effective in providing all Federal employees the opportunity to improve the quality of life for all.

The CFC is the only authorized solicitation of employees in the Federal workplace on behalf of charitable organizations. It continues to be the largest and most successful workplace fundraising model in the world. With a tradition of commitment to the community through the selfless efforts of Federal employees, the CFC has its roots in the many charitable campaigns of the early 1960s. Seeing a need to bring the diversity of fundraising efforts under one umbrella, Federal employees created the CFC – one campaign, once a year.

The Office of Personnel Management (OPM) is responsible for regulating the CFC and providing guidance and oversight nationwide. It reviews and provides guidance and technical advice on regulations and has the authority to conduct compliance audits on any CFC local campaign fiscal records.

The CCBCM has been members of the Combined Federal Campaign for the United Way of the National Capital Area since 2003 and our Agency number is #96257.

Please consider making a tax deductible contribution to support our scholarship program. All donations are used solely for the purposes of providing scholarships and supporting other CCBCM programs. Since 1993 to date we have awarded $562,000 dollars in scholarships to (625) students and provided $167,293 dollars in food and donations to families and food pantries in need of assistance to include persons impacted by COVID-19.
